Missionary Archives on Africa

The importance of missionary archives as a primary resource continues to grow, as their value for the study of a variety of scholarly disciplines and subjects becomes ever more widely recognized. For some years, IDC Publishers has been engaged in microfilming the archives of a number of major European missionary societies and has assembled a very large body of primary source material in this format. These microfiches are now being issued according to region, with a regional catalogue, index and list of related works also available on microfiche.

The present catalogue lists 19th and 20th century archive materials relating to Africa, south of the Sahara, and to Madagascar and Mauritius. There are large sections on Southern, Central and West Africa and lesser amounts on Eastern and Western Central Africa. Much of the material listed consists of letters, journals and reports of Protestant missionaries, from the London Missionary Society (now the Council of World Mission), the Methodist Missionary Society and the Paris Evangelical Missionary Society, in the various mission-fields to their home bases. The filmed documentation in the three archives covers most of the 19th century and the first half of the 20th century. In addition, the catalogue lists 20th century materials in the archives of the Conference of British Missionary Societies and the International Missionary Council.

Southern Africa

All of the three above-mentioned societies were active in Southern Africa. The London Missionary Society sent its first missionary, the Dutchman Vanderkemp, to the Cape Colony in 1798. He was followed by a number of outstanding, pioneering figures: John Philip, Robert Moffat - who devoted himself to the Kuruman mission - and, in 1841, David Livingstone. Their papers and correspondence are well-represented in the CWM archives. The LMS eventually withdrew from South Africa but maintained strong missions in the Bechuanaland protectorate [Botswana], in Matabeleland [Zimbabwe] and in Northern Rhodesia [Zambia]. It was an LMS missionary, John Philip, who persuaded the newly formed Paris Missionary Society to send its first missionaries to Southern Africa. The society established a Basutoland [Lesotho] mission in 1833 and in 1885, François Coillard led an expedition from there to the upper Zambesi. Here he both established and led a mission under the Basuto-speaking peoples until his death in 1904. Early attempts to found a Wesleyan Methodist Mission in the Cape Colony floundered, although Barnabas Shaw commenced work in Namaqualand [Namibia] in 1815. Subsequently, both Wesleyan Methodists and Primitive Methodists worked in the Cape Colony and Wesleyan Methodists also commenced work in Transvaal, Swaziland and Rhodesia [Zimbabwe].

West Africa and Madagascar

There are substantial quantities of archive materials relating to West Africa and Madagascar. In 1811 Wesleyan missionaries responded to a request from freed slaves in Sierra Leone to establish a church. Despite a very high mortality rate at the start, Wesleyan mission work was established in Gambia, the Gold Coast [Ghana], Nigeria and Sierra Leone, whilst in 1870, Primitive Methodists commenced work in Fernando Po and, later, in Eastern Nigeria. Meanwhile, Paris Evangelical Missionary Society missionaries commenced work in Senegal in 1862 and later in Gabon. After the first World War they assumed responsibility for the former German missions in Togo and Cameroun. In 1818, LMS missionaries were the first to commence evangelical work in Madagascar. Their missionaries withdrew in 1836 when forces led by Queen Ranavalona instituted a period of persecution. They returned in 1862 and following the French annexation in 1896, were joined by missionaries of the Paris Evangelical Missionary Society.

Countries

Other African countries covered include Congo (Paris Evangelical Missionary Society, Joint IMC/CBMS and IMC archives), Rwanda with Burundi (CBMS/IMC), Kenya (Joint IMC/CBMS, IMC and MMS) and Tanzania (Joint CBMS/IMC). Due to the presence of the CBMS and IMC archives, substantial materials relating to 20th century topics such as missions and war, the situation in Belgian Congo, education policy, Christian literature, native labour, racial policy, land tenure and freedom of conscience are present. Finally, IDC has issued microfiche editions of 18th and 19th century books on Africa, such as William Ellis's works on Madagascar, Seventeen years in the Yoruba Country, Anna Hinderer's Memorials of Anna Hinderer, David Livingstone's Missionary travels and researches in South Africa and The Gospel on the banks of the Niger by Samuel Crowther and J.C. Taylor.
